ANSON EXPLAINS HOW CUBS ROSE

Perfect Harmony, Intelligent Teamwork and Liberal Management.

MAKE NO NEEDLESS PLAYS

Make the Other Fellows Throw the Ball-Always Ready to Bunt, Chance the Goods.

"The elements which make for suc cess on the ball field are not unlike any business venture—a healthy founda tion, a thorough organization and an intelligent effort displayed by all," says "Pop" Anson in explaining the rise of the Chicago National League team.

"In my judgment the foundation for the present success of the Cubs was laid by Frank Selee during his man-agement of the club a few years ago as many of the chas a lew years age, as many of the present members of the team were selected by him, and were led by the present captain, Frank Chance, who, in my opinion, is without a superior in the baseball world as a manager and captain. With the change from Hart to Murphy the foundation was complete, Murphy's policy promising success from the start.

One Happy Family.

"As an organization the Cubs are like one happy family and perform on the ball field like a single piece of machin-The policy of Mr. Murphy has been liberal in the extreme, no expense has been spared in the making of a winning team, and a winning team in Chi-cago means financial success to the owners. The present condition of the elub goes to show that the judgment of Mr. Taft in his selection of Charles W. Murphy was sound, both from a busi-

Murphy was sound, both from a business and professional standpoint.

"The team is remarkable for its uniformity. They are all high class ball players, with no stars among them. No jealousies exist. Each individual player puts forth his best efforts at all times. His confidence in his fellow-players and in the management is unbounded. Capt. Chance is popular with every member of the team. Without similar conditions the best individual players in the world could not finish first.

Good Trainer Helps.

It appears to be the policy of Mr. Murphy to have at all times and in all emergencies, a complete team, never short of a competent man for every of every possible opportunity. As hitters they average up well as a team and are all good waiters and make the pitcher put the bail up to them. By their actions on the field, in playing winning ball, they show an appreciation of the treatment accorded them by the management.

As all signs fail in dry weather, so all dope went awry in the Gans-Nelson bout. No matter what the average sport's judgment was regarding the winner, no one—outside of a freak bettor would have gambled that the fight would have lasted over twenty-five rounds at the very outside. Yet it went seventeen rounds longer.

Joe Knotts is the best backstop in the league, without any hemming or hawing, says the Lynn Item. He coaches his pitcher well, throws fast and clean to sacks, and is a good sticker. He is energetic and possesses a good noddle. Tis said he is slated for the Boston American League club.

Mathewson's striking out of fourteen of the Brooklyns is the major league record of the season. The day before Ames struck out twelve of the Trolley Dodgers, making twenty-six in two days on the strike-outs. "Matty" fanned two in the first, three in the second, two each in the third, fifth, sixth, and eighth, and one in the seventh.

"Don't worry about the Highlanders," said "Commy" the other day, "they're just made to order for the White Sox. 'Grif's' team is going along at a frightful pace now, but don't forget that they have got to come here for four games yet, which they won't like so well. The Sox have won seven out of the last eight games with New York, and the other was a tie, so it looks at though we had it on that crowd."
